

AIA Maryland 2010 Officers:

President: Eileen English, AIA, LEED AP is a senior associate with Hord Coplan Macht, Inc. in Baltimore. She is a project manager in HCM's health care group. A graduate of the University of Maryland School of Architecture and the Johns Hopkins University, Eileen has an extensive background in commercial and institutional projects in addition to health care. She served as AIA Maryland's Secretary from 2006-2008.

President – Elect: Steven Kahle, AIA, LEED AP is principal of Steven Kahle Architects, Inc., an Annapolis based firm he founded in 2004. Steve's portfolio includes commercial, institutional, retail, and residential projects. Several of these projects have been recognized with design awards from professional and industry organizations including the American Institute of Architects, Washington Building Congress, and the National Association of Industrial and Office Properties. Steve received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Architecture at Washington University and his Master of Architecture degree from Yale University. Additionally, he has received a Master of Business Administration degree from the University of Maryland. Steve has served on the board of the AIA Chesapeake Bay Chapter as president and director and most recently served as Treasurer on the AIA Maryland board for 2009.

Secretary: Dan Bailey, AIA is the President of Penza Bailey Architects, Inc. a BBJ, Top-25 Area Architecture Firm since the 2007 merger of Amos Bailey Arnold + Associates and Penza Associates Architects. Dan grew up on Long Island, but has practiced in Baltimore since his 1975 graduation in Architecture from Iowa State University. 2010 marks the firm's 30th year in practice. Working with clients from the British West Indies to New England, PBA has a diverse portfolio of work ranging from award-winning custom single family residential design to over $100 million in institutional projects for the State of Maryland. Recognized regionally for its work in higher education and public schools, PBA crafts contextually appropriate, environmentally responsible, and financially viable places to live, learn, work, and play. Dan currently serves on the Morgan State University Architectural Advisory Board, and the Board of MANNA House, a regional homeless services organization. Dan also is a Trustee at Lovely Lane United Methodist Church.

Treasurer: As a principal and one of Hord Coplan Macht's lead designers, Lee Driskill, AIA focuses on design and planning within the context of a building's environment. To that end, he has designed many of the firm's urban infill, adaptive reuse and new town projects. Lee firmly believes that the design of the space between buildings is as important as the design of the building itself. Lee's award-winning design experience encompasses a wide variety of project types including multi-family, specialty and senior housing, offices, restaurants and mixed-use facilities.
